

Dear Friends of the Katerva Awards,

Did you know that today is World Water Day? At Katerva, we encourage and recognize innovative efforts to preserve our planet's non-renewable resources--including our precious water supply. You can help by keeping the flow of information as strong as possible about The Katerva Awards, our group's sustainability challenge.

So, today, we urge you to elicit an outpouring of support by:

- Donating your Facebook status by posting: "Today is WORLD WATER DAY. Visit <http://katerva.org> to find out what innovators are doing to save our water supply."
- Being sure to "Follow" and "Like" both <http://www.facebook.com/katerva> and <http://www.twitter.com/katerva>
- Retweeting any Katerva tweets that you think are especially interesting

Thank you for your continuing support!

Best regards,

Cheryl
